SECOND HOMES: THE BURNING QUESTION

THE NATIONAL FRONT is under heavy media attack for our refusal to condemn Meibion Glyndwr (Sons of Glyndwr) - the mysterious direct action group who have claimed responsibility for dozens of arson attacks against second homes in rural Wales.

We do not support the violent and secretive tactics used by Meibion Glyndwr. We have no links with them whatsoever. But neither are we willing to join in the unthinking Establishment chorus of condemnation of patriots driven to desperate measures to defend their nation. The real blame lies elsewhere - and we are quite prepared to say exactly where:

The second homes issue has been a burning grievance in Wales for many years now. With a pathetically low average income of £4,000 per year, local people are unable to compete in the property market with wealthy outsiders - mainly from the big English cities.

In many rural areas in the heart of Welsh-speaking Wales, up to 25% of the housing stock is tied up as holiday homes. This means that young people particularly have no chance of finding a home in their own nation, and so have to move away.

This leads to the closure of schools and recreation facilities. And because the houses are occupied for only a few weeks in each year, shops and public transport services close down through lack of regular use.

This in turn makes it harder for local people to find work and retain interest in the area, so even more move away. As a result, the Welsh identity is being destroyed.

But although this problem has become most prominent in Cymru due to the actions of Meibion Glyndwr, and in previous decades the M.A.C. and the Free Wales Army, it is by no means confined to Wales. In Kernow (Cornwall) there is also a holiday home arson campaign, and other fierce resistance to foreign invasion led mainly by the direct action group, Angof. In Mannin (Isle of Man) too, there have been a growing number of similar attacks and the revival of Fo Halloo - meaning "underground". And even in rural, and the poorer regions of England resistance to the yuppie invasion has become manifest, taking the form of attacking parked cars and other property belonging to the unwelcome newcomers.

So who is to blame?

You can't really blame people who want to get away from the tense, violent and commercialised rat-race of England's multi-racial cities. Brought up without any sense of pride in their own culture and heritage, it is hardly surprising that they do not even see what harm their selfish pleasure does to another nation or age-old community.

Nor can you blame the farmers and other inhabitants of a countryside hit by EEC farming policies and indebtedness to the banks for selling "surplus" houses for the highest prices they can get.

So exactly who is to blame for the crisis which has driven patriots to raise once more the standards of their last great "rebel" leaders and their communities?

WESTMINSTER RULE

Rule from remote, money-grubbing London has hit Wales, Cornwall and the Isle of Man even worse than the outlying regions of England, as badly as Scotland, and almost as badly as Ulster.

Our City masters, State bureaucrats, media manipulators and their party political puppets regard the small farm and village life which is still the norm in rural communities with contempt and total incomprehension.

The rootless and cosmopolitan intelligensia who cling like leeches to the cancerous growths of London and New York have an instinctive loathing for any people who are striving to cling to their ancient culture and minority language. For nations which resist the "values" and chatterings of Hollywood are also likely to impede the development of the highly profitable global "culture" of Coca-cola and blue jeans.

So while the System's puppets at Westminster have made a few "safety valve" concessions such as, for instance, more TV time in Welsh, the overall aim and effect of their rule in Wales is to destroy the last vestiges of national pride, self-sufficiency and identity.

Such things provide banners around which people can rally to defy the creeping power of the centralized state, so such things are anathema to Westminster.

LOCAL COUNCILS

It would be reasonable to expect local councils to be more responsive to the needs of people in their own areas, but this is rarely the case. They are too dominated by petty party political point-scoring and by career-minded little bureaucrats who don't want to rock the boat.

These people have the power to create new small scale housing schemes open to local people only, and at much more realistic prices. Such schemes have been running successfully in a number of villages in English counties such as Wiltshire and Dorset, where the locals have been priced out of the housing market by City yuppies.

If the same thing was done in every rural village and traditional community, the resentment caused by the holiday homes issue would be greatly defused. Every council could do this if the will was there.

But unless the electors make it clear that councillors will not be re-elected unless they take action, laziness and corruption (because building land destined for the open market fetches a higher price) will ensure that nothing is done.

POLITICAL SAFETY VALVES

Political safety-valve "radicals" such as the so-called "Welsh nationalist" party, Plaid Cymru, must bear a greater share of the blame than anyone. Although Plaid's founding principle was that its members should never take up seats at Westminster, the neo-Marxist sellouts who run the party today are all too happy to pick up their inflated salaries and to look important on the opposition bench in the House of Commons.

This act alone has done more than any other to legitimise Westminster rule in the eyes of an ever-growing number of people, and so to prevent an effective national feeling and opposition developing.

Plaid's MP's and councillors have failed to get local councils to provide housing projects as already discussed. And by insisting that everything should be left to them, to the "experts", Plaid have deterred ordinary people from taking part in the mass community action which is needed to defend community spirit, interest and identity today.

Rather than taking effective action on the second homes issue, Plaid have instead attacked others - such as Meibion Glyndwr and the Ffrynt Cenedlaethol Cymru/Wales NF -

COMMEMORATIVE RALLY - CYMRU

FfC Cymru/Wales NF recently received a standardized letter calling upon all Welsh patriots to assemble in Caernarfon on 1st July 1989 to commemorate the sentencing of six members of the Free Wales Army, and the death of two members of Mudiad Amddiffyn Cymru. The gathering in Caernarfon is to honour the memory of these martyrs and to show that the Welsh will to nationhood is not dead. Whilst we do not agree with their practice of armed struggle, we honour their memory as men who were prepared to do something and die if necessary, rather than let their nation die.

THE BATTLE FOR OUR COMMUNITIES

The Burning Question

In their grovelling drive to appear "reasonable" to the mass media, Plaid are prepared to sacrifice Welsh Wales on the altar of their respectability and juvenile pacifism. They are a party of traitors, attacking their fellow countrymen for Westminster gold.

ESTATE AGENTS

All over the British Isles, these underworked and overpaid parasites have made a fortune in the last few years. They have done everything they could to encourage people to move when they do not really need to, and to view property as a guaranteed good investment rather than the financial gamble which it really is.

In Wales, Scotland, Cornwall, the Isle of Man and the poorer but more scenic areas of England, they have encouraged a full scale invasion of yuppies and weekenders, by advertising heavily in the wealthier south east and by encouraging speculation about the next area to be "discovered" and to soar in value.

In Wales, they have knowingly encouraged a wave of immigration which threatens to extinguish forever the oldest living language and culture in Europe.

The languages of Kernow, Mannin and Gaelic Scotland are similarly under serious threat of extinction.

THE BANKS

The banks and building societies worked hand in hand with the estate agents to create the housing boom. They also knowingly encouraged house buyers to borrow more than they can afford to repay. As these financial giants hold the house in question as security if the borrower defaults on mortgage payments, they really cannot lose.

But rising interest rates have made "mortgage misery" a reality to hundreds of thousands of families. And the higher house prices which resulted from their reckless lending have prevented many other people from having the chance to own their own home at all.

But the banks are to blame for housing problems in a much more serious way as well. For it is the bankers' usury swindle which is largely responsible for the inflationary pressures which first caused people to look on "bricks and mortar" as some sort of magic and infallible investment, so creating the attitude which underlay the mad increase in prices of recent years.

THE FACTS

So when you look at the facts, it's clear that it is wrong to blame Meibion Glyndwr, Angof, Fo Halloo and other groups for the recent arson campaigns. Establishment politicians, their "radical" political safety valve poodles, and various vested interests in the sleazy world of finance - these are the guilty men.

This analysis also shows why the arson campaigns cannot provide a long term solution. While they continue, it may lower prices somewhat, but if at any time it should stop, property prices would then be catapaulted higher again.

The holiday homes issue is merely one of the symptoms of the diseased economic system which afflicts the British Family of Nations, as it does so much of the rest of the world. The only long term solution must be political and cultural struggle to eliminate the disease, rather than individualistic outbursts against one of its many horrible symptoms.

That is why the National Front repeats its call to the brave activists of Meibion Glyndwr: "Stop burning down isolated houses in Cymru - join us and help us destroy the whole stinking British state."

THE MANX CAT BARES ITS CLAWS

"A developer's been on Manx radio again, and called folk who protest 'just ignorant men'. Remember, we Manx must not get in the way of those who go seeking a fortune each day."

The above "Ode to an Empire Builder" recently appeared in the Isle of Man - Mannin - Examiner newspaper. It came in the same week that three patriots were imprisoned for arson and criminal damage caused to houses being constructed for 'come-overs', that is newcomers to Mannin.

Nationalist sentiment briefly flourished in the 1970's on Mannin when the population was swelled by rich immigrants taking advantage of the 20% rate of taxation. But when the economy slumped into recession, Fo Halloo, Gaelic for "underground", faded away.

However, superficial economic recovery has revived Manx Fo Halloo once more as the rich parasites look towards Mannin again.

In the last three years, with the Channel Islands tax haven full to bursting, Mannin has once again become an attractive refuge for finance managers and bankers, and the building and service workers who follow them. The population has grown from around 64,000 to almost 70,000 in this time. But it is by no means a recent problem. Less than half of the population are Manx born.

FSFO!

When the Tynwald - the Manx parliament and the oldest surviving elected assembly in the world - opened in July of last year, the slogan FSFO, which stands for Financial Sector Go Away (or words to that effect) was burned into the grass on the Sacred Hill and a 'For Sale' sign hung from the flagpole.

And then came the recent house burnings for which the three men were gaoled.

A group calling themselves the "Friends of the Three" have distributed a leaflet outlining their grievances.

A newly renovated holiday home waiting for the yuppies to snap it up. Young families are being driven from their communities by the power of money in the latest attempt to destroy the last vestige of belonging and tradition. The problem affects every region of our islands, especially rural areas, but is felt most accutely in Wales and the Gaelic nations because of the differences in language.

House prices had risen 30% in two years, well beyond the reach of local people. There are now more than 1000 homeless and yuppie development is ruining the environment. As with Welsh Wales, the youth are being driven from their homeland by the power of foreign gold.

More recently, building site equipment and materials have been destroyed by a group called "The Red Fox".

FRUSTRATION

While the National Front cannot condone the destructive burning of homes we can understand the deep frustration that leads to such desparate action. But instead of these destructive acts, Manx patriots should act constructively to save their nation. Those who care about Mannin should organize and agitate legally to preserve their language, heritage and cultural identity. Holiday homes should be repossessed and squatted in by homeless families.

Only then can they begin to win the support of the wider population who similarly feel betrayed by their elected representatives and Westminster, but have accepted the destruction of their country without a struggle. Manx patriots must have the backing of these people so that they can operate freely inside their communities and draw sustenance from them.

The Manx cat is beginning to bare its claws. As the people of Mannin awake, the National Front look forward to welcoming them to the national struggle, so they can stand proudly alongside their comrades from Kernow, Cymru, Ulster and all the nations that constitute the British Family.

CORNISH TINNERS TAKE ON NIREX!

IN A brave attempt to uphold the rights of their nation and safeguard their community, and to drive the government nuclear waste agency, NIREX, from their exploited land, two Cornish tinners are attempting to reclaim a nuclear research drilling site at a disused quarry near Gwithian.

The tinners, Carl Skewes and Paul Kelly, recently walked across a friendly farmers land to 're-bound' Reskajeage Quarry.

The mens' actions are backed by ancient Cornish laws that entitle them to work the quarry for tin, and allow them to eject contractors undertaking research work for NIREX. Each year the tinners have to renew the bounds at the quarry, which involves piling marker stones in the corners of the site.

The NIREX contractors, Elcon Western Electrical, have applied to Kerrier Council for permission to extend their period of research at Reskajeage to five years. But the two tinners have taken the case to Truro County Court where a verdict is still awaited.

"We are stubborn and determined Cornish tinners and have come to Reskajeage Quarry to renew our lawful tin bounds according to Cornish Stannary Law", says Carl Skewes.

"We will not be put off or forced from using this, our ancient privilege, custom and right by anyone such as NIREX, or any person not acting in the interest of Cornwall. We will not weaken in our endeavour to be able to come to work our tin bounds without let or hinderance."

The Westminster stranglehold on the British Family of Nations is surely breaking at long last!

WHERE WE STAND

NATIONAL FREEDOM

Britain is a family of Nations - England, Wales, Scotland, Kernow, Mannin, Eire and Ulster - linked by blood and history. The peoples of all nations have an inalienable right to self - determination and to preserve their native cultures and traditions. We look forward to the day when Eire voluntarily rejoins the future federated British family of nations.

RACIAL SEPARATION

Race is the main determining factor in nationality. Racially mixed societies cannot form one nation and are therefore unstable. No one race is 'superior' to others, but they are all different. Racial integration threatens all races. Humane repatriation is better for us all than endless repression and racial violence.

SOCIAL JUSTICE

The nation is a great family. Every member of our national family has the absolute right to care at the nation's expense when young, sick or old. There must be equal opportunity for all, but unearned privilege for none.

WELL DISTRIBUTED PROPERTY

The realistic opportunity to own one's own home and place of work is the right of all our people. Direct ownership of the means of production and distribution is essential for individual freedom, for family stability and for the best use of our national resources.

SANITY IN FINANCE

The right to create the credit needed by the economy must belong to the people's government. The banks, which have usurped this right, must be stripped of their unjust gains and power. The National Debt is based on usury and must be repudiated.

RESPECT FOR NATURE

We hold the environment in trust for future generations. Pollution of the land, sea and air, and of the gene pool through radiation, is a betrayal of that trust.

POPULAR RULE

Parliamentary representation is a fraud. Party rule is a cloak for the dictatorship of vested interests and media bosses. Government must be in the hands of the people themselves, through new information technology, and the election of delegates to carry out their wishes. Power must be devolved to the lowest possible level.

THE ARMED PEOPLE

The freedoms given by these principles must be defended through armed neutrality, with well - equiped national defence forces involving the entire adult population. Power, wealth and arms in the hands of the people!

REVOLUTION NOT REFORM

These changes cannot be brought about by tinkering within the System, or by relying on the System's own institutions, such as parliament, schools or the courts. They can only spring from a National Revolution. This revolution must begin in the hearts of individuals, then spread by their example to involve whole communities in revolutionary structures such as alternative councils and schools, neighbourhood patrols and self-help groups. Once we cease to depend on the institutions of the old State, it will be swept aside.

THE THIRD WAY

The growth of these ideas in nation after nation shows that a new force is rising in the world for the 21st century. Leaving behind the sterile hatreds of Capitalism and Communism, this Third Way offers a real future for all our peoples. We urge all those who agree with these principles to join with us in the struggle to build the National Front - the Movement of the Future.

HOME AFFAIRS, ANALYSIS & COMMENT

RSI THREAT TO WAGE SLAVES

THE history of Mankind shows that all new technology brings both advantages and disadvantages, and the microchip technology of the twentieth century is no different.

In recent years there has been the growth of a new and painful disease, a disease all the more painful because government agencies and most doctors refuse to accept its existence. Known as RSI - Repetitive Strain Injury - it was once confined to production line workers; it is now becoming increasingly common amongst workers who spend their days in front of VDUs - computer screens to you and I. Indeed, its growth has led to the founding of an RSI Association, and which is concerned with spreading knowledge of the danger as well as arranging mutual support for sufferers.

RSI strikes the hands, wrists, arms, shoulders, neck and back, and, as its name implies, is believed to be caused by repetitive movements such as typing. Acute inflammation in these parts can be so painful that simple things like washing, dressing, turning a key become impossible to perform.

The government's so-called Health and Safety Executive are unimpressed, arguing that the claims of the RSI Association need supporting "evidence" - the standard response from such agencies when the health of our people is ever seen to be put at risk.

Given the fact that the new computer technology is becoming evermore widespread, it is essential that something is done now to stop this danger. The NF believes that the following must be done to protect VDU workers:

1. The London Hazards Centre booklet, The Hazards of the VDU, should be issued by law to all workers using VDUs, so that both employers and employees know what is involved.

2. Since repetition is central to this disease, there should be a legal maximum of 8,000 strokes per hour for workers, thereby eliminating the oppressive 20,000 strokes demanded by corporate capitalists. Furthermore, every worker should be allowed to get up and walk around for 10 minutes every half an hour or so in order to stretch his arms and legs, thereby reducing muscular strain.

3. All VDUs must be fitted, by law, with high resolution anti-glare screens, and with anti-lead emission devices. This will protect the eyes and lungs of operatives.

4. A well financed medical investigation team should conduct a thorough study in this field, and seek to provide two conclusions:

a). Far reaching recommendations for VDU safety which would be the basis of new legislation backed by powerful sanctions for companies breaking the Code developed by the medical team.

b). A register of current sufferers of RSI to be compiled as a prelude to the setting up of an effective and highly responsive Compensations Committee.

The health of our people is central to the vision of the Revolutionary Nationalist, so all steps necessary to that end must be taken. Those who would like to find out more about this problem can receive a booklet from the London Hazards Centre by sending £1 to: 3rd Floor, 308, Grays Inn Road, London, WC1X 8DS.

THE SYSTEM'S SHAME

AFTER sad but common terrace fighting led to a deadly stampede at the Heysel stadium, the media and the authorities immediately tried to blame the National Front. There was, of course, no evidence for such an absurd and outrageous suggestion, and subsequent police investigations totally cleared our Movement of any involvement whatsoever.

Now, the city of Liverpool has been hit by another football tragedy. But this time there is clear evidence that one particular organization was totally responsible for the deaths of nearly one hundred innocent football fans.

Imagine what the media and politicians would have said if it had turned out that a senior official of the National Front had forced a gatekeeper at the ground to open the gate through which the fans then poured to their deaths? And if other members of the NF had rushed onto the pitch and beaten back desperate fans as they tried to escape over the fence? And if they had then obstructed the ambulances and firemen in their rescue operation?

If anyone connected with the NF had done such insane and horrific things, our entire Movement would have been condemned. Those involved in planning and carrying out the atrocity would quite rightly have been rounded up and charged with manslaughter, if not murder.

But the Sheffield tragedy was the work of a particular organization. Yet nothing has been said about this in any daily newspaper, or any TV station or by any Member of Parliament. Why not?

MASS MANSLAUGHTER

Because, quite simply, the Hillsborough tragedy was not an unavoidable accident but a case of mass manslaughter by the South Yorkshire police. And the rest of the Establishment have closed ranks to protect their boys in blue.

Just look at the facts of the disaster. The police have admitted that the gate through which the fans poured to crush their fellow supporters was opened on the orders of a Superintendant Marshall. The gatekeeper in charge warned of the dangers. In his own words: "I begged them not to, but they made me give them the keys."

Over the next few days the papers were full of pictures of policemen helping crushed victims, but a more accurate picture of police behaviour and their role in the terror was given by businessman, Trevor Hicks. Mr. Hicks was at the game with his daughters, Sarah and Victoria, aged 19 and 15, both of whom died in the carnage:

"For three or four minutes the police were standing doing nothing. I was shouting to a senior officer, but I didn't get a good response. I'm not prepared to say what he said, but it was dismisive. The police formed a line across the pitch as if there was going to be a pitch invasion and trouble. It slowed ambulances and firemen getting through."

Other eye-witness accounts are even more horrific. One elderly man managed to climb over the fence, only to be pushed back again. Terrified victims trying to follow him to safety were clubbed back by police truncheons. Of course, when it finally sank into the police that people were dying, individual coppers worked frantically to save lives and were as shocked as anyone else. But by then it was too late to undo the damage done by the force as a whole.

The parallels with the Heysel disaster are uncanny. None of the brawling fans there intended anyone to die - they just didn't care or didn't think about it until too late. Yet those identified as being involved were facing manslaughter charges and some have been found guilty. Thatcher personally demanded that they be deported to Belgium to stand trial. Yet Thatcher has carefully avoided making one comment about the police who played such a similar role at Hillsborough. The double standards and hypocrisy involved is disgusting. The Sheffield massacre calls for urgent thought and action but the "matters arising" go much deeper than is at first obvious. The football cages must come down. Senior police officers must face manslaughter charges. Newspapers which used heart-rending pictures taken by photographers who could have helped saved lives instead of recording death, must find their sales hit by public revulsion. All these things should be obvious enough But it must go further than that.

It is time for all decent thinking people to consider the end results of using an ever-more brutalised military police force to defend an ever-more corrupt system. Sheffield was not an accident, it was a grim warning of things to come!

THE SCHOOL OF DEATH

THE government's education under-secretary, John Buther, recently revealed that schools are losing some £100 million a year because of arson, vandalism and theft. But in typical politicans' fashion he has not looked at the reason why so many young people have lost any respect for the State and its institutions.

In truth, it is the materialist nature of the political ideologies running parliament that has alienated young people from their society. Is it any wonder that people, especially the young, reject the authority of a State that looks upon them as mere economic units to be exploited?

The government has just funded an £80,000 video film offering security advice to schools. It is said that schools are often poorly equiped in terms of perimeter fencing, alarms and security lighting. So it seems that the State's answer is provide schools with better fortification than the crown jewels! And some people have commented that the real reason for this is not to keep intruders out but to keep the pupils in so that they can be more easily indoctrinated with the System's perverse libertarian ideas!

Yet the root problem is not the lack of security at our schools. It is the simple fact that no-one can ever respect the authority of a State that does not base itself upon ordained Natural Law and which does not allow the people as much input as possible in the running of society.

Only when State institutions serve the best interests of the people rather than impose the ideas of a few powerful individuals will such conflicts become a thing of the past. The mentality that the System produces in people will only start to disappear when the Natural Order begins to re-establish itself.

SOCIAL CONTROL ON THE CARDS

The new EftPos system under trial: Prisoners of the Plastic Card.

IN the autumn of 1983, a writer in the then NF journal, New Nation, wrote a visionary article entitled Prisoners of the Plastic Card which outlined the move to a Cashless Society.

It was argued that there would be a proliferation of credit cards and the like in subsequent years which would seek to undermine the unique status of Cash. This prophesy was bang on, since there are now 80 MILLION cards in this country, ranging from credit cards through to cheque guarantee cards and chain store cards.

The article went on to note that once the market was awash with such cards, there would be a move towards replacing a mass of cards with one, all purpose card. This is now one stage closer for a recent development in credit card technology, by the company EftPos UK Ltd, is introducing a technical standardization which will unify 50% of the plastic cards currently in use including some of the best known like Visa and Mastercard.

Not unsurprisingly, this change is being given the Tomorrow's World build up. The public are being told it will be "super convenient" and that it will greatly "reduce plastic card fraud", and it is likely that the masses will believe it.

Nonetheless, our writer said that the prime concern of the plastic card advocates was Social Control since Point of Sale cards were, in the words of Chicago Tribune journalist, Art Buskin, "a means of massive surveillance of the population."

And who owns and directs EftPos UK Ltd? None other than those bosom pals of the British Peoples: Barclays, Lloyds, National Westminster, Midland, TSB and the Bank of England, along with a little help from the Halifax, Nationwide Anglia and Abbey National building societies. The day is rapidly approaching when whether or not you are issued with a life-sustaining plastic card will depend on whether or not you are "co-operative" and a "capitalist friendly user."

DEBT THREATENS THE FAMILY

A pernicious threat to the Family, the foundation of any healthy society, is gaining ground in modern Britain. It is called Debt. It is largely unseen, but its effects are horrendous. According to a recent report issued by the National Association of Citizens Advice Bureaux, there has been *"an alarming increase in multiple debt."

According to the Greater Manchester Bureau, there are 1,388 people on their books receiving help in paying off their debts - which amount to a staggering £8,000,000! What makes this all the more incredible is the fact that this astonishing sum does NOT include mortgages or secured loans. Comments once CAB official: "We are getting similar tales from all over the country, and there is no sign of the situation abating. With the current high interest rate things can only get worse."

This debt misery is destroying families, destroying the lives of our peoples. Yet the media continue to prop up the grotesque lie that "we are all gettting richer in Thatcher's Britain." What a sick joke.

THE publishers of "Green Anarchist" seem to be a bit confused about the NF. On page 5 of their latest issue they claim that we have links with Welsh nationalists "with access to explosives and automatic weapons." Then on page 13, a strange chart lists us alongside Thatcher, cities, Stalin, the SDP and the Unions. Our position on the chart seems to be based upon the absurd notion that we are "centralist" and "right-wing". It is, of course, obvious that centralists would support Welsh autonomy!

Stranger still, "Green Anarchist" profess support for AIM (American Indian Movement) and carries an interview with an activist. It also mentions the OPM (Free Papua Movement) guerilla struggle against Indonesian imperialism. Obviously "Green Anarchist" missed our exclusive interview with Russell Means, one of the leaders of AIM, and our special report on the OPM's struggle. Perhaps "Green Anarchist" don't realise that AIM and OPM are part of the growing global Third Position?

Maybe in their next issue we will see another chart identifying these groups as "centralist?" Or maybe "Green Anarchist" will start to refer to itself as "right-wing?" We can't wait to find out!

A public spirited gentleman has requested that we remind a Mr. Gerald Gable, car registration number C49 EMG, not to forget to renew his road tax.

AND whilst on the subject of cars, a Mr. Bob Roden of Darkfield, Prestwich, Manchester, was recently ordered to pay £3,700 by the court for systematically destroying someone's Range Rover.

Said Mr. Roden: "I am a serious anti-racist. I was informed that the Range Rover's number, NF1, signified that it belonged to a prominent member of the National Front, so I decided to take action." Just in case anyone's interested, the car belonged to number plate enthusiast, Nigel Fairweather, who's an ex-member of the SDP!

"We stand against all forms of oppression" proudly chorus the Socialist Workers' Party, whilst at the same time attacking the Welsh freedom fighters, Meibion Glyndwr, as "backward elements." We wonder why their ever-so working class designer slogans don't extend as far as that quaint little holiday spot called Wales?

The creatures from Searchlight magazine seem to be going frantic over the publication of a little pamphlet entitled "The Other Face of Searchlight." A few home truths never go amiss!

They'll be glad to hear that the compilation of the next edition in the series is already underway. They'll also be pleased to hear that the booklet is about to be reprinted. Yes, it's virtually sold out already after only a couple of weeks!

We fondly remember NF pensioner, Albert Marriner, murdered by a Labour Party inspired rioting mob, on the anniversary of his death.
See report next issue.

WORLD AFFAIRS, ANALYSIS & COMMENT

RUMANIA: NIHIL SINE DEO!

PRIOR to World War II, Rumania was the home of one of the most staunchly nationalist and Christian people in Europe. It possessed a dazzlingly rich culture and tradition, giving rise to a political and spiritual fervour that was reflected in the national flag: a Crown, a Cross and the motto, Nihil Sine Deo (Nothing without God). It was from this soil that the Legionary Movement of Corneliu Codreanu sprang - a movement of heroes and martyrs that revitalized the very soul of Rumania, and which was only crushed with difficulty by the gigantic military superiority of the Soviet Red Army.

Rumania is now undergoing an even more extreme national crucifixion at the hands of inhuman Marxism. It is a genocide that no one in the so-called "Free West" wants to hear in this age of 'Gorbymania'. Whilst the Press and politicians laud "Gorbachev the Statesman", Rumania endures a diabolic hatred and persecution. Rumania is the nation of the Silent Scream.

MISTAKEN VIEW

In recent months thousands of ethnic Hungarians have fled from Rumania, victims of President Ceaucescu's programme to "modernize the towns and countryside of Rumania." Some have, mistakenly, seen this as a revival of the inter-ethnic rivalry that is endemic to Eastern Europe. But ethnic Rumanians are no less the intended victims of steamrolling cultural genocide than are the German and Hungarian minorities

What is the real purpose of the programme? It is to root out and destroy every last vestige of Culture and Belief which could provide the basis of a resistance to the drab sterility of Marxism. The "myths" of Religion, Nation and Identity are to give way definitively to the overlordship of the Communist Party - and no amount of glasnost is going to stand in the way.

PAST AND PRESENT

What does the programme entail? Simply, the mass destruction of tens of thousands of towns and villages, and the gutting of the architectural heritage of the cities which is a jewel in the European Crown. The Rumanian "past" is to give way to a permanent, uninspired Communist "present".

At first the villages were bulldozed, but the need to conserve energy in this utterly bankrupt "Workers' Paradise" led to the enforced destruction of the peasantry's homes by their owners. Old folk, unable to adjust to this new demand of "scientific socialism", have been committing suicide in vast numbers.

"Whoever enters this fight should know beforehand that he will have to endure suffering. He who can bear suffering will win".
"Every suffering is one more step towards redemption: towards victory. Therefore, we legionaries will gladly endure suffering".

The Captain: Corneliu Zelea Codreanu. The spirit of the Legionary Movement and the Grace of God are all that can save Rumania.

Churches have been an especial target of the atheists; in Bucharest, the capital, over 30 historic churches have been destroyed to make way for mausoleum style Party buildings, and for barracks style flats for the proletarians.

LUXURY PREFABS

These flats, the replacements for the unique building style of Historic Rumania, are no more than prefabs with a wall thickness of 4.5 inches. In a country which knows really cold weather, it is hardly surprising that the walls crack within days of erection. In December 1988, in near freezing conditions, these flats were granted the "luxury" of having the central heating on for just two hours, although the restriction on usage of electricity - 35 kilowatts per hour (even the ramshackled USSR allows 190 kilowatts per hour) - remained in force, punishable by heavy fines. As for hot water, this is available for two hours per week, with every 30 flats having to share one bathroom and toilet.

RATIONING RATIONS

These hardships are reinforced by what is virtually a famine situation, and the last of the kitchen gardens of peasants have now been collectivized by the State. Ration coupons are no longer a guarantee of even meagre food supplies, but merely a guarantee of a place in a food queue outside a shop that opens for one hour every once in a while. Eggs and meat are not available, whilst the lowly potato is now classed a luxury item. As a result diseases caused by nutritional deficiency are spreading rapidly, striking hardest at the very old and the very young. The mortality rate of the new born is now so high that registration of birth no longer takes place the same day, but only after 3 weeks - this because so many do not live that long.

MARTYRDOM

Resistance is becoming impossible. All typewriters have been confiscated; the sale of paper has been made illegal, so not even leaflets of protest can be produced; the secret police have not been so all pervasive since the dreaded days of Stalin.

Our brothers and sisters in Rumania are facing total annihilation, a future where the graveyard will remain supreme.

But the spirit that gave birth to the Legionary Movement, that cried "Long live Death!", abides in the breasts of this martyred people. Comrade Codreanu proclaimed before his murder: "Every suffering is one more step towards redemption, towards victory." Let the martyrdom of our heroic European cousins be a spur to action, an action in which YOU undertake to DO something for Britain and for the whole of Mother Europe. Our fate, for good or ill, is in our hands, and the choice is Life or Death.

FOR THE WORLD TO LIVE- THE BANKS MUST DIE!

EVERYONE KNOWS that Capitalism, just like its Communist twin, has brought the environment of Europe and large parts of North America to the brink of total collapse.

But while most people have heard about Third World environmental disasters such as the destruction of the Amazonian rainforest, fewer are aware of the full scale of the problem in the Third World, nor of the driving force behind this terrible damage.

A new book, Rare Birds of the World, gives an indication of just how serious things really are. It concludes that out of the 9,000 species of birds in the world, more than 1,000 are under serious threat of extinction. Yet just 10 years ago only 290 species were reckoned to be in such danger. This means that there has been a fourfold increase in threatened extinctions since 1979.

Man's record since the year 1600 up until now is bad enough, with 105 species known to have been destroyed forever. But the pace of destruction is racing ahead faster and faster. Future generations - if we survive the coming environmental chain of collapse - will surely term our era the "Age of Extermination" or the "Death Time".

Some of the species now at risk include European birds such as the Corncrake, threatened by modern farming techniques, but the vast majority are now in the Third World.

WHY?

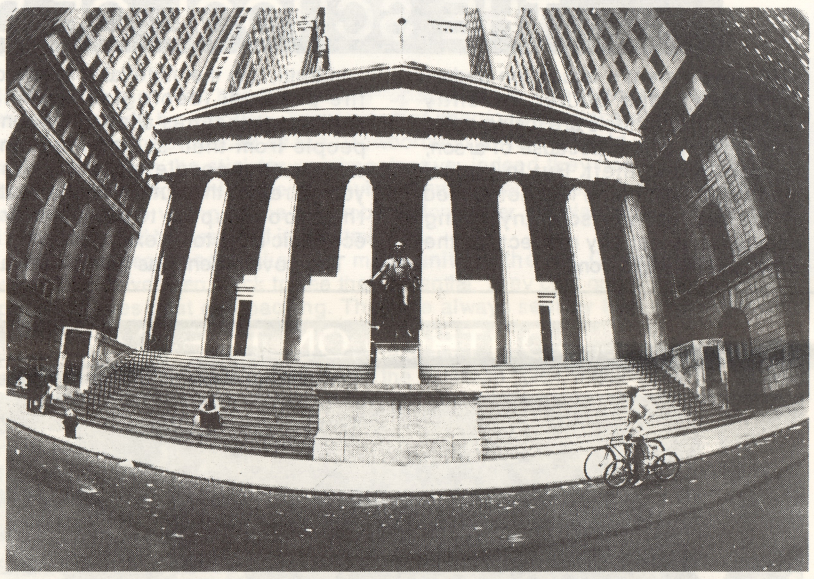
But before we rush to blame the peoples of those countries for this environmental tragedy, it is necessary to ask why they are being pushed to such ruthless, destruction of natural habitats.

Over-population does play a part in some areas, but the overwhelming pressure for the destruction of nature and our mother earth comes from the fraudulent world banking system. This literally forces poor countries to rape the environment in order to attempt to pay back the interest on usurious loans.

The NF demands an end to debt-credit creation, and the switch to a sane system of finance which will create credit interest free in order to correspond with the real wealth created by the bounty of nature and the abilities of individuals and communities.

Naturally, we seek this first of all for our own nations and our European Motherland. But we also offer it as the only solution to the global destruction of the environment which threatens us all, West, East and Third World. The elimination of international debt is the vital first step towards the creation of a sustainable world economic structure.

To put it simply: For the World to Live, the Banks must Die!



Wall Street has for long been the centre of debt finance. This oppresive and destructive economic system obviously cannot last forever, perhaps even much longer, because by its very nature it is also self-destructive. All the signs point to the fact that it is under severe and increasing strain and is beginning to bend. The question is - When will it eventually crack?

BEHIND THE DOUBLESPEAK

WHEN talking about the Middle East, the mass media constantly refers to Third Way countries like Libya and Iran as being "extremist" while such countries as Egypt and Iraq are described as being "moderate".

Yet according to Amnesty International, children in Iraqi prisons are often tortured and killed as a matter of routine in order to gain information about relatives who might be opposed to the Ba'athist regime. Likewise, the Egyptian State has a long record of brutal repression of its opponents, particularly Islamic fundamentalists and supporters of the Third Way ideas of Nasser.

Why the double standards of the West? The plain fact is that the leadership of both Egypt and Iraq are very prominent in the Arab world in compromising their stand against Capitalism, whilst the opposite is true of Libya and Iran.

So it can be plainly seen by those who still have their eyes open that the term "extremist" relates to those who oppose the usurious system of international finance, whilst "moderate" is another word for those who tow the line. The issue of extreme and barbarous treatment of political prisoners and opponents is an irrelevancy for the denizins of the System.

DISCLAIMER

THE National Directorate of the National Front wishes to make it clear that the Flag and Vanguard are not National Front publications. They do not reflect NF policy or strategy and do not speak for the National Front.

They are produced by a small clique of reactionaries, thieves and drunks, expelled from the NF in 1986. Officials are reminded that both publications and their editors are proscribed. Members of the public are warned that the NF cannot be held responsible for money lost on subscriptions to the Flag and Vanguard when they cease publication.

DICTATORSHIP BY CONSENSUS!

ALTHOUGH the Western media usually refer to the countries of Eastern Europe as "One Party States", this is not always strictly true, especially since the introduction of Gorbachev's Perestroika.

The USSR, Poland and Hungary, for example, all have free elections in which candidates other than members of the Communist Party can stand.

But in fact, of course, all such "independent" candidates are actually endorsed by the Communist rulers. To give them the unlikely benefit of the doubt and assume that they are not actually front men set up by the CP, the fact nevertheless remains that their political views are so close to those of the CP that they pose no threat to the System whatsoever, but merely provide an impression of freedom of choice.

These bogus alternatives are even allowed to make their own suggestions in debates on future economic and social policies. But they operate strictly within the confines of an acceptable consensus within the Communist Party. These phoney independents would not dream of stepping out of line and putting forward ideas which would actually threaten the System. Indeed, they would not be allowed to take part in the charade if they did actually oppose the System, rather than merely offer the "Emperor" a new set of clothes.

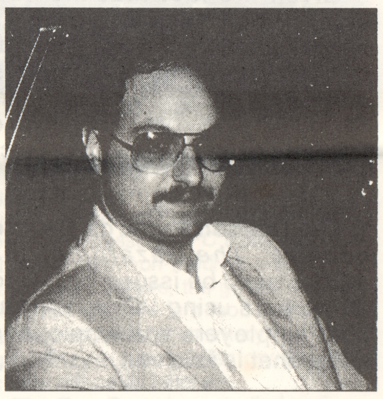
But while the Western media are always willing to expose the undemocratic nature of such a superficial hoax in the Eastern Bloc, they go to great pains to conceal the fact that exactly the same kind of dictatorship by consensus exists in the so-called "Free West" - a quaint term for the System's Western Bloc.

Yet you only have to look at the way in which the media and the politicians work to deny us any satisfaction on fundamental issues such as immigration, capital punishment, abortion, exploitation by the banks and the destruction of the environment through "inevitable progress", to see that things are exactly the same here. They proclaim that all opinions are valid except that of Truth. Any position can be taken except that which corresponds to Natural Law.

Both Capitalism and Communism deny ordinary people the power to determine their own lives as much as possible within the framework of Just society. They even deny us this right within their inherently unjust society!

Capitalism may be more subtle and effective, but dictatorship is dictatorship, whether it is imposed by the jackboot or by the twisting of values through countless TV soaps and the consumer rat race.

"WE MUST NEVER FORGET"



J.J. Pollard.

ZIONISTS have a very common saying: "We must never forget", and they are nothing if not consistent.

Those who have memories which can survive the "instantaneous" nature of today's 'news' may remember that the last Zionist spy uncovered by the American government who was in their service was Jonathan Jay Pollard. An Intelligence analyst, Pollard had been passing secrets to his controllers in Jerusalem for some time, although when exposed the Israeli regime claimed that they had no knowledge whatever of Pollard. They insisted that he was part of "a rogue espionage operation". A fairly predictable response given the 'special relationship' that exists between the Great Satan and Israel.

Although this episode has been all but forgotten in the West, submerged as it is in "I went to bed with Pamella Bordes" stories, the wounds have been reopened in Israel by a well known Jewish journalist.

In his book, Territory of Lies, the super sharp Jerusalem Post correspondent, Wolf Blitzer, has made not only a number of interesting speculations, but also uncovered some poignant facts. He believes that behind the scenes a deal is being worked out which will allow Pollard, who is serving a life sentence in Illinois, to be deported to Israel. One significant fact unearthed was that the Israeli government is paying $5,000 per month into an account in Israel for Pollard. For a man who they say they never knew, and who is not likely - in the normal course of things - to be needing a lot of money in the next 99 years, this monthly payment seems a little generous even by philantrophic standards.

It is probable that most Jews have no more control over the activities of their government and their security services than do we over ours, and Blitzer's revelations can only lead many of them to one conclusion: if Pollard is a rogue operative, then the Israeli establishment is a rogue's gallery!

THE FRONT LINE

SPECIAL

The Third Way Marches On!

IN West Germany in March the German National Democratic Party(NPD) made considerable electoral gains in a number of states, much to the chagrin of the Establishment. Although the NPD is a nationalist organization, it is not a fully Third Position one, though there are strong currents within the student and youth wings to bring this about.

One of the main figures behind the call for a German Third Position within the NPD is Josef Graf, a radical comrade who was recently elected to Frankfurt City council in the state of Hessen. Councillor Graf has kindly given NF News this revealing interview.

The 7 NPD councillors on Frankfurt city council. Comrade Graf can be seen on the far right of the photograph.

NFN: Can you please tell our readers a little about yourself?

JG: I am 28 years of age and have lived in Frankfurt for about 18 months. I was born in eastern Bavaria, an area that is similar to the rural areas of northern England.

This region of Bavaria is one that has declining industries and high unemployment, a fact made worse by the Iron Curtain destroying our once important economic and cultural relations with the Czech people. It is now dominated by a large nuclear installation and a massive training area for the occupation troops of U.S. imperialism.

This situation forced me to leave my ancestral home to seek employment. I joined the NPD four years ago, although I had been a nationalist for some years before. I had not wanted to get involved in politics hoping that others would do this work for me, but when you are serious about nationalism and you consider the tragedy of the struggle, you cannot stand by without feeling guilty.

NFN: What was your first reaction when you heard that you had been elected to the council?

JG: There are few places in West Germany where the NPD has been treated so badly by the Establishment as in Frankfurt; at times they treated us as little better than common criminals.

Thus it was a real triumph to make our breakthrough in the capital of West German capitalism, in the self declared fortress of liberalism and multi-culturalism. Watching the contorted faces of the conservative losers on TV, an old comrade said that it was the first time in 20 years that he had been able to laugh properly. That is how I felt also.

NFN: Can you tell us how many NPD councillors were elected with you?

JG: There are 7 of us on the city council, and we have one honourary member on the city government as a matter of right for being elected to the council.

In the state of Hessen, we now have 29 councillors in various city and district councils. In the mining town of Woelfersheim, where we have been on the council for 8 years, we received 17.5% of the vote and are now slightly stronger than the conservatives.

NFN: As one of a handful of National revolutionary councillors in Europe, what do you think you can do for your constituents?

JG: We consider ourselves to be the voice of those sections of the community who possess little money, and of the youth whose future is being sold at the Stock Exchange.

Government opinion polls show that around 80% of the people are opposed to the main political platform of the establishment parties. We will seek to inform this bloc in Frankfurt about what the basically pro-American parties have been doing with their taxes; we will seek to advise those who are suffering poverty at the hands of the System.

NFN: Will the other NPD councillors elected with you be taking a radical approach, or will they be taking a more orthodox line of acceptance and integration into the System?

JG: Being on the city council means we have to accept certain formal rules, but we were not elected by the people to be integrated into the Sytem. We have been elected as a protest, so we must articulate this protest during council sessions.

None of those elected with me have any desire to integrate into the System, but even if they did the System has made it clear that they are not interested in seeking to make us "respectable". Whilst they are against us, we cannot be far off the mark!

NFN: What issues do you intend to push in your area during your term of office?

JG: The three major issues of our electoral campaign were: corruption in the municipal administration; the low cost housing shortage; the attempt to turn this city into an American style multi-racial mess.

Now that we have been elected, we will be exercisisng our right to look into the administration's files, and thereafter we will make public our findings.

We will be beginning our campaign for quality houses for those on low incomes, and we mean houses not soulless high rise flats. We will also be seeking to organize council tenants to take over their houses since a home is a basic right.

The vast majority of Germans and of the immigrant communities are opposed to forced integration. Some years ago the Greek community in Frankfurt set up a private school for their children as they did not want their children to lose touch with their culture and language. At first the authorities tolerated this experiment, hoping that it would fail, but the point was rapidly reached where the vast majority of Greek children were attending this school in preference to the German state schools.

The System destroyed this school through its use of the courts. We believe that similar projects will arise in the German and immigrant communities in the next four years, but this time they will not be so easily removed.

NFN: What practical measures - bulletins, leaflets, meetings - will be undertaken by you/NPD to ensure not only re-election, but also the growth in the number of National revolutionary councillors?

JG: Our parliamentary group and the local branch will be distributing leaflets and bulletins on a regular basis in those areas where we performed best. We will be seeking to inform the residents not only about our work in the council, but also about things which the media have suppressed. The public will be invited to contact us about their needs and to make concrete proposals. Thus, it is our hope that we will transform the protest vote into solid support, winning activists to our Cause, and thus giving the System real trouble. We have done this in smaller communities, so there is no reason why this shouldn't occur in a large city like Frankfurt, although we will be starting in certain, limited locales.

NFN: Will you be undertaking a programme of Community Action in your area? If so, what form will this action take?

JG: We have to undertake Community Action if we wish to be re-elected in four years time.What makes this all the more important is the fact that the System is heavily promoting the Republican Party, an absurd mixture of populism, neo-Nazism and conservatism. They draw their "inspiration" from Reagan's America. In other words, they are being used as an Establishment safety valve

Of course Community Action is the best way to prevent the work of the System in this respect. Thus we will be undertaking Community Action, although we do not possess a great deal of experience in this field. It is the only way of convincing people that we are the only pro-German movement in the country.

NFN: Have you considered announcing that you will not be sitting as a representative, but as a delegate of the people?

JG: The NPD advocates a form of participatory democracy similar to the one in Switzerland. If we wish to be taken seriously we must be both representatives and delegates. However, there is not much point in announcing this to the public and then hoping that they will come and tell us what they want. First, we have to be successful in the field of Community Action. Once this has been achieved then we can start to act as delegates rather than as representatives.

NFN: Have you any message for the readers of NF News or the NF?

JG: I have always had a special interest in the NF, and, therefore, I know its history and transformations well. The recent changes in ideology and strategy have made the NF the most interesting nationalist group in Europe.

At the moment the NF is the only organization in Western Europe which is preparing itself seriously and successfully for the coming revolutionary crisis. That this crisis is coming is obvious; all that is in question is who will make use of it.

The young generation in the so-called Third World is eager to rid itself of its Quislings who align themselves with the Super Powers. In eastern Europe the post-war order is imploding rapidly, whilst in western Europe the people are frustrated and discontented despite their wealth.

The communist regimes, at least in the satellite states, will not survive the coming decade and if communism falls in central Europe, liberalism in the West will face great difficulties. We have to prepare for that day.

Thus we have to be aware of the fact that the building up of a revolutionary organization is far more important than an electoral success here or there. As the NF is the organization which is the most advanced in this respect, it has got to act as a pace maker for other European organizations. It has to bear the responsibility of resisting the temptation of sacrificing long term strategy to short term benefits. If we want a Third Position Revolution, we have to incur the sacrifices connected with the building of a revolutionary organization, for without it National Revolution in Europe will be impossible.

NFN: Councillor Graf, thank you for both your time and your comments.

National Front bedreigt Wales

THE intensity of the National Front's campaign in the defence of Wales, its culture, traditions and people, has generated massive publicity in recent weeks, but it is not confined to the British Isles. This was shown clearly when a leading Dutch daily newspaper, Het Parool, picked up on the London Times floated story that the NF were the motivating and organizing force behind the Welsh direct action group, Meibion Glyndwr.

Under the emotive headline, "National Front threatens Wales", Het Parool outlined the general story that appeared in the Times, but were a little fairer in their reporting. Whilst recording that the Front and the Sons were allegedly linked, the newspaper did emphasize that this was an unproven assertion.

In traditional media fashion,however, it dubbed us "ultra right extremists", yet, strangely admitted that "the Directorate of the NF was composed of young intellectuals who adhered to the Third Position philosophy which is beyond Capitalism and Communism". The journalist seemingly did not understand the utter incompatibility of being "right wing" and "Third Positionist" at the same time.

Although the paper raised various stupidities - allegations of paramilitary activity and the like; as well as a purported National Directorate inspired anti-English campaign - it did point out our sympathy for the Third Way nation of Libya, and the fact that we are making real progress in Wales. As they put it: "One things is sure - the NF is recruiting people in Wales. Young, unemployed people are being called up(!) to serve the National Revolution".

What makes this report of greater interest is that it was the speedy action of our comrades in the Dutch Centrumpartij '86 which made possible a swift rebuttal of the newspaper's allegations. It is a small, but practical, example of the growing co-operation that is taking place between the Third Position groups of Europe.

The National Front's leadership has had a declared policy since 1986 of answering every lie that is levelled against the Movement. Now thanks to the work of the NF's Bureau of Foreign Affairs we are beginning to hit back on an international scale! As the BFA's legal structure expands the NF will extend its motto towards the whole of Europe: "Pay them back woe for woe, strike them back blow for blow."

SOVIET ELECTIONS - NO CHANGE

NOW that the dust has cleared on the Soviet elections, it is clear that the communist party 'old guard' were deliberately humiliated by president Mikhail Gorbachev. He has used their poll's disaster to urge some of them to resign from the central committee and even in one case from the Politburo. The defeat of many Conservatives has given him prime opportunity to remove many of those who oppose his reforms.

Gorbachev summoned the country's leading newspaper and broadcasting editors to a Kremlin meeting soon after the election results were announced at which he urged them 'not to dramatise' the results of the march 26th election. By sparing the defeated Party bosses public humiliation in the media he believes he can prevent a conservative backlash.

The elections took place throughout the Soviet Union and the puppet government controlled Baltic states. What is obvious is that the Communist Party candidates were for the most part totally unprepared for the crushing defeat that many of them suffered. So remote and isolated have these party "apparatchniks" become that they cannot have contemplated defeat. With the weight of the Party machine behind them and a tame, controlled media, it was unthinkable. Several commanders of the armed forces, including General Boris Snetkov commander of the Soviet troops in East Germany - whose opponent in the ancient city of Yaroslavl, advocated a volunteer army - suffered a highly significant rebuff by voters, who are educated from the cradle to revere the 'defenders of the homeland'

In the Baltic states of Estonia, Latvia and particularly in Lithuania, where both the Prime Minister and President were defeated, Nationalists gained many victories. This despite fifty years of 'education' to stamp out that very spirit of nationalism.

The purpose of the election was threefold:

Firstly to enable President Gorbachev to do some political manouvering to strengthen his position at the highest levels of the Communist Party.

Secondly they acted as a pressure safety valve at a time when the Soviet empire is crumbling. the elections temporarily distracted peoples attention away from ethnic unrest which is tearing apart Armenia and Azerbaijan and many other parts of the sprawling empire such as Kosovo in Yugoslavia and Uzbekistan. People who believe that for the first time in their lives they are being given a choice by the State will forget for a while about massive inflation, beaurocratic incompetence and widespread offical corruption.

Thirdly the elections were excellent 'public relations' for the Soviet states. The 'western' media created a 'circus' atmosphere. They gave Boris Yeltsin, the film star, treatment in Moscow where he duly won with almost 90% of the vote. This phoney election to an almost powerless assembly became for a while the face of the Soviet Union.

But the Communist heirachy are playing a highly dangerous game. How long before people begin to realise that by becoming involved in the electoral process they are merely exchanging one form of dictatorship for another? They have to keep the lid on a rising tide of Nationalism and general disatisfaction, now that people have scented change, no matter how small, they will expect and demand more. They must not look to the west as an example of 'freedom' or utopia. They have to find a Third Way beyond Capitalism and Communism. Both these power systems have an interest in holding up the other as the only possible alternative to themselves. They would have us believe there can be no Third Way.

Both have axes to grind. The Communist wants all power. Communism is a power hungry creed. The Capitalist wants us to believe that any measure that is likely to clip his wings and his profits is bound to lead to barbed wire and early morning arrests.

Only when both evil and exploitative systems are destroyed can east and west be truly free. The Nationalists who have never knuckled under to the Communist system are an inspiration to us all. The oppression they face may be more brutal and obvious than that faced by us in the British Isles today, but that is only because our chains are not so visible.

The Communist regimes in Eastern Europe now seem to be learning the advantages of subtle "representative" dictatorship, and the moves towards ID cards and a militarised police force in Britain show how the West is also taking lessons in crude repression from the Marxists.

Recent events in Eastern Europe may be the start of the collapse of the Soviet empire and the end of the division of our continent . Or they may turn out to be part of the process at the end of Animal Farm when the animals realize that the "revolutionary" pigs are indistinguishable from the Capitalist farmer.

DEAR EDITOR

CULTURAL IDENTITY

Dear NFN,

Like other comrades in England I have admired the hard work and dedication, supported by a strong line of cultural identity, that has been shown by our Ulster and Welsh comrades.

However, rather than sitting back in admiration, I feel that English units should be pushing our cultural identity and setting the pace in true NF tradition.

At a recent meeting of the North West Regional Council it was agreed that the time was ripe for us to publicly press for some kind of regional autonomy. With the coming imposition of the Poll Tax a North West electorate, unable to remove a South East dominated government, may begin to look favourably on any organization with a coherent and realistic proposal for regional government. Accordingly, we in the North West are now putting together our proposals for a regional structure which would be the first step on the road to a more localised Direct Democracy to be attained in the future.

In addition to their regional 'movement', units in England might be interested to know that another way to encourage a local sense of identity is to get involved in the 'English Crusade', or 'Save Our Shires', being run by 'This England' magazine. Units in the recently adopted (and then wiped out) Metropolitan Counties in particular should campaign to have the old Shire name back in their true postal address - we in Wirral are pressing to be back in Cheshire, where we have been since the Anglo-Saxon chronicles of 890 - as opposed to Merseyside.

The 'Save Our Shires' campaign represents a foot in the door for English units to go even more public on 'local' cultural identity. Use the old Shire names in your address! Come on English NF units, get to work!

D.O. Wirral NF, Cheshire.

Editorial Comment

The next edition of 'This England' will be printing a full list of addresses for local contacts in the 'Save Our Shires' campaign. It is due out in May.

A STICKY OMISSION

Dear Sir,

In NFN 116 in an item headed "Local Propaganda On The Increase", you mention the Pontypridd by-election. The "range of imaginative stickers" that were also mentioned were produced by the Crowborough & North Weald unit. I agree that the message on the stickers was imaginative, indeed they had the brilliance of brevity and I thoroughly enjoyed keying them in. I am sure that the campaign of abstention from voting will be remembered long after the election victor (whoever it was!) plonked his rear-end in Westminster.

We have produced stickers for many units of the NF. Comrades in Ulster, especially, have been quick to see their potential. They cost only £10 per 1000, the price includes post and packing. They are always sent by first class recorded delivery. You can "pick 'n mix" if you wish. 250 stickers with one message, 250 with another, and so on. As long as the minimum order is for 1000 then you can specify how that is made up. However, the minimum "pick 'n mix" must not be less than 10.

Normally, we can turn an order around within 24 hours of receit but please remember that it may take a few days to be sent on from our box number. We look forward to receiving your orders comrades. There must be plenty of local issues that you can capitalise on with the aid of some imaginative stickers!

Yours faithfully,
D.C., PO Box 41, Crowborough, East Sussex, TN6 2HD.

AN OLD SAGA

Dear Sir,

I am writing to say how pleased I was by your exposure of Zionist/Nazi links in issue 117 of NF News, links which not only appall many decent Jews but also are leading to the corruption of a section of our youth by the sterile, reactionary politics of National Socialism.

While many people will know that many Jews in Israel have been outraged by the atrocities committed by the Zionist armed forces in Beirut and on the West Bank - I am thinking of Neturei Karta, Peace Now and the Women in Black - I wonder how many know of the astounding revelations made by Naim Ghiladi?

Mr Ghiladi is the chairman of the World Organization of Jews from Islamic Countries, and is, therefore, beyond suspicion of being anti-Jewish. A journalist and historian, he has made public the fact that he had studied documentation whilst in Israel in the 1950s and 1960s which show conclusively that Yitzhak Shamir, the current Israeli Prime Minister, offered his services and that of his terrorist group, the National Military Organization to ADOLF HITLER!

These documents, which were routed via the German Embassy Naval Attache in Ankara, Commander Hantik, reveal that Shamir offered to carry out terrorist acts against both the British and the Americans in return for "assisting" European Jews to make their way to Palestine. That the majority did not want to go there was clearly of no consequence to Shamir.

At the time Mr Ghiladi was studying these earth shattering documents, Shamir was the head of Israel's murderous secret service, Mossad. Shamir was tipped off about the existence of these embarrassing documents which were amidst piles of seized Nazi dossiers. Mr Ghiladi continues: " Accompanied by Mossad agents carrying submachine guns, he (Shamir) marched into the archives where I was studying the wartime records, and seized every file containing a reference to him. These papers were never seen again in Israel. But I did get a second look at them."

Unbeknown to Shamir the originals were to be found in Britain; Mr Ghiladi proceeded to make his own copies and felt that this was an opportune time to make these details known to the world.

Nationalists and peace lovers the world over can only be indebted for the courage Mr Ghiladi has shown in this matter. I hope that your readers will see that the Stuart/Benjamin saga is no more than a re-run of the Hitler/Shamir dalliance. Old habits die hard it seems!

Yours sincerely,
N.T. Solihull.

KAMARADEN

Dear Sirs,

Thank you for sending your literature to us. Nationalrevolutionare very much liked this material as we are also supporting a Third Way beyond Capitalism and Communism. We are also promoting the idea of a Free Europe, free that is of the Super Powers. Since we live in the capitalist and America-dependent part of Germany, we naturally concentrate most of our agitation against America.

We have been fortunate enough to see the interview that one of your leaders conducted with the student wing of the German NPD. We can certainly state that we agree absolutely with your conception of politics. Indeed, it is true to say that the National Front has now become a real beacon for the New Europe!

We look forward to seeing your literature in the future on a regular basis.

Towards a National Revolution in Europe!

Revolutionary Salutations,
PS, Munich, West Germany.

NATIONAL IDENTITY

Dear NFN,

"JF" from County Antrim is fully justified in his support for recognising the nationhood of Kernow (Cornwall), Mannin (Isle of Man) and Eire (Ireland).

However, in addition to Kernow and Eire having their own language, so does Mannin.

Visitors to Mannin will see many street names in Gaelic and others in both Gaelic and English. I believe that an organization called Yn Cheshaght Ghailckagh is attempting to revive this native tongue.

The national identity is very strong; this is no English county, as I believe a certain Labour M.P. wants it to become!

I think it is worth pointing out that Mannin has a Constitutional arrangement with the U.K. State that differs to England, Scotland, Wales and Cornwall.

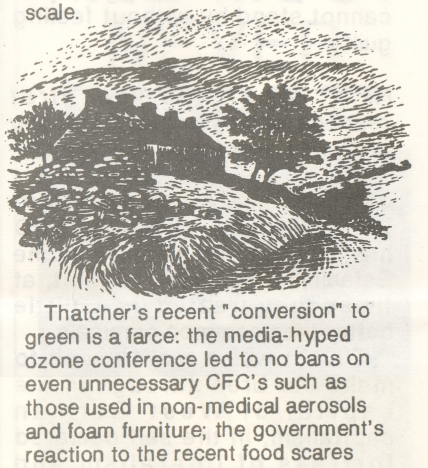
Who knows? A Third Way for Mannin someday? It's rapidly becoming a bankers' paradise and needs saving!

Yours for Wessex,
G.R.K., Gosport.

GREEN REVOLUTION

Dear Sir,

As a Third Positionist and active campaigner with an environmental group I would endorse the views expressed in the Comment of issue 116. As consumers however, we should guard against being led by the big-sell techniques of manufacturers who use "environmentally friendly" slogans to boost sales and to convince us that we are making a valuable contribution towards a safer world. Individual efforts have a minimum effect whilst industry is allowed to pollute on its current scale.



Thatcher's recent "conversion" to green is a farce: the media-hyped ozone conference led to no bans on even unnecessary CFC's such as those used in non-medical aerosols and foam furniture; the government's reaction to the recent food scares amounted to only "voluntary" guidelines to farmers; factory farming can continue as before.

The Tory Party is controlled by Big Business of which the farming industry is a large part; how can we expect them to give priority to environmental issues? It is the twin evils of Capitalism and Socialism, based upon materialism, that are the root causes of environmental exploitation, and only the Third Position can offer us a fully embracing new order that will overthrow these evils and create a system that will work in harmony with nature.

A farmer responsible for three and a half thousand acres of land, recently interviewed on television, said he could not give up chemical intensive farming as he needed the high yields it produced to cover the costs of mortgage and pension fund payments. The abolition of the usury system and the disappropriation of land owned by such farmers will put an end to such excuses for chemical farming. The determining factor of agriculture must be that the land is returned to the hands of small family farms. Only a government supported "Back to the Land" policy can save our agriculture from impending ruin and put a stop to the health risks from unnatural methods of food production.

Even on a local level the capitalist greed of developers threatens the environment. The devolution of political power to local peoples' committees will give people real control over areas such as the 'Greenbelt'.

Time is now running out. If there is to be any future at all we must all undergo a 'spiritual revolution' and we must reassess our relationship with nature. Above all else priority must be given to the maintainance of public health, natural surroundings and the world's ecosystems. There must be no place for excessive profits that lead to irreparable environmental damage, unnecesary cruelty to animals, or the pollution of our seas and land. The old political systems have so far 'cost the earth'. Only the Third Position can offer a real green alternative, only we are the true greens!

Yours for the green revolution,
Miss J.C., Essex.

THE FRONT LINE

ZIONISTS SEE GREEN!

THE NATIONAL Front on the outer edges of East London has received a substantial amount of publicity recently over the uproar caused when Redbridge NF donated a copy of Colonel Qathafi's Green Book to their local library.

Local Zionists went wild when the library agreed to accept the gift in spite of the pressure brought to bear for it to be rejected.

Redbridge Libraries Committee chairman, Cllr David Burbidge defended the library's acceptance of the book by saying that:

"We took a long hard look at the book, and agreed that in no way was it anti-semitic or likely to cause offence to the Jewish community."

"Nowhere in the book is there an indication that it was donated by the National Front and we do not condone their views."

"Colonel Gadaffy is of interest to acedemics and students."

This is a very fair and sensible attitude. A similar position has been taken by library chiefs in Newcastle in response to the local NF there donating a copy of the Green Book.

That gesture too produced a great deal of publicity. This is welcome for a number of reasons.

It helps to break the old image of the National Front as being an organization of "wogs begin at Calais" bigots. It encourages journalists to discuss our ideas on government by popular participation and the undemocratic nature of parliamentary representation. And it gives many politically aware and intelligent people the chance to read one of the most important books developing the idea of the Third Position (neither Capitalism, nor Communism) which holds so much potential for the 21st Century.

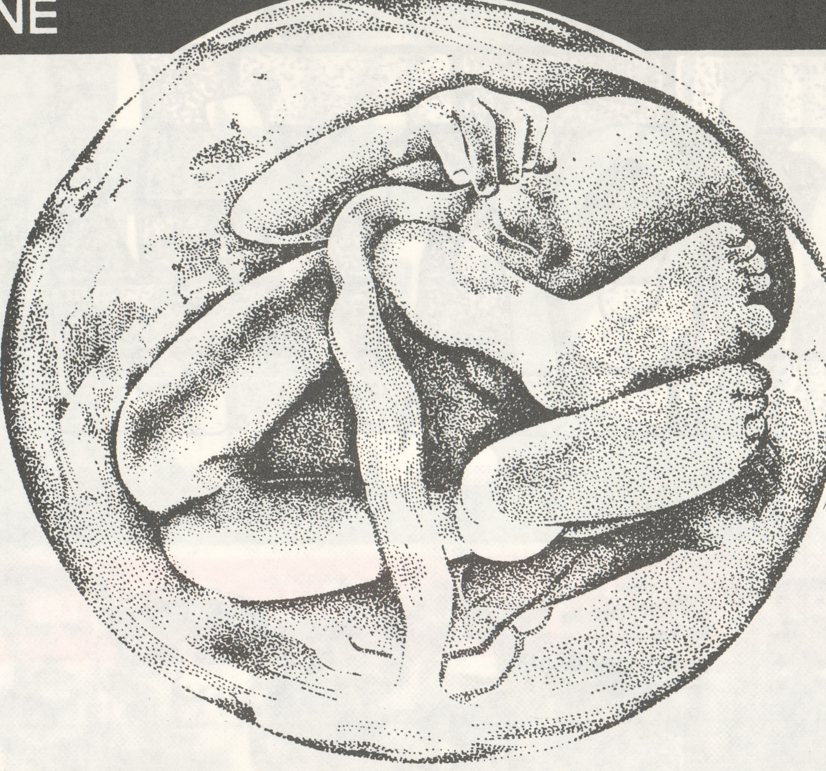
All other NFN Supporters units, individual cadres and interested supporters should follow the example of Redbridge and Newcastle by giving a copy of the Green Book to their local library. Please notify the NF on the National Contact Line when you do - and let us know what happens.

COMMUNITY ACTION

IDEOLOGY is of course essential, but it is also vital that the NF keeps its feet on the ground, and is seen to be dealing with the day-to-day issues which affect ordinary people.

Once again, our Havering unit are showing how this can be done - in the same area being covered by the publicity arising from the Redbridge library decision.

Their new Community Action leaflet is mobilising public concern over planned road developments in their target ward. Given the past successes of such local campaigns, the activists hope that enough people can be involved to ensure that the council has to act on the wishes of the residents.



"TODAY MY MOTHER KILLED ME!"

THE NATIONAL FRONT IS A MOVEMENT FOR LIFE, and this is something that Oldham unit takes very seriously.

Last year this unit ran a very successful anti-abortion campaign in the area which won them a lot of local support, a lot of half way decent publicity, and a guest speaker from the anti-abortion group, LIFE.

Part of the success of this campaign can be laid at the door of a locally produced leaflet entitled: Today My Mother Killed Me. Written in a style designed to shock people into a realization that abortion means Child Murder, it proved highly popular with the public and members of the Movement far and wide.

In a recent unit newsletter, the Committee announced that they intended to reprint the leaflet but in a revamped form. Given the fact that the unit are also running a highly publicized anti-Poll Tax campaign, it will be appreciated that they would like outside help to bring about the reprinting sooner rather than later. All those comrades who feel particularly strongly about the Life issue are asked to send something, however large or massive! The sum required is only £50, so let's have a good response and do something for the children who cannot help themselves. Send cheques/ postal orders, payable to Oldham NF, by recorded delivery to:

P.O. Box 123,
Oldham,
OL1 2HB.

WE'RE ON THE AIRWAVES

NF SPOKESMEN are getting the nationalist message over loud and clear on television, radio and in the press.

The spring publicity wave started when Patrick Harrington took part in a 15 minute discussion programme on the BBC World Service concerning integration in Britain in the light of the Rushdie affair.

A university professor and a Muslim were the other participants. Our spokesman ensured that the NF's principled opposition to integration and our support for separate schools for European and non-White children were heard literally around the world.

WALES

A few days later it was the turn of Wales. The Western Mail carried a major interview with NF cadre Michael Brax. In the largest circulation paper in Wales, he attacked Plaid Cymru as Westminster-based sell-outs and outlined our policies on Wales, the armed people and our positive political campaign against holiday homes.

Following this, Graham Williamson gave two interviews to BBC Radio Wales.

In the middle of March, this evidence of growing interest in the NF in Wales led to a hysterical smear attack in the Times. The National Front was not even given a chance to answer the absurd allegations made in the article, but this was easily outweighed when HTV's Wales at Six ran a peak time interview with Nick Griffin. Eventually, the Times saw the error of its attitude after constant NF complaints, and published a letter from an NF official.

The Wales at Six interview gave hundreds of thousands of Welsh viewers the chance to hear why and how the NF opposes the purchase of holiday homes which is destroying rural communities in Welsh Wales. It made it clear that we do not support the tactics of Meibion Glyndwr, but have our own positive and practical programme to deal with the problem.

BECOME A FRIEND OF THE MOVEMENT

IT'S THE LEAST YOU CAN DO!

Back in the 1970's the enemies of the British peoples used to claim that "NF = No Fun". But those who value the concept of Family, Community and Nation, and who have already become Friends of the Movement, have realized that this is yet another lie about the Movement of the Future. As well as our regular political work, which FOM's can contribute as much or as little as they want, we organize a hectic social calendar for the Movement. We run our own social evenings, cultural outings, shooting clubs (clay pigeon), family picnics and so on. So if you want to spend your time enjoying yourself in the company of other nationalists, then Friends of the Movement is for you!

To become a member of this association it costs a mere £15 per year - in other words we are asking you to give less than 29 pence a week to help save our country. Surely it's the least you can do!

In return you will receive a FOM card, we will keep you updated with important developments and achievements in our work and you will gain the satisfaction of knowing that you are playing an important part in our struggle. Quite apart from allowing us to carry on with, and expand, our work, Friends of the Movement play the important role of acting as the eyes and ears of the Movement in the population.

ULSTER NF BRIDGE THE DIVIDE IN MAY ELECTIONS

ULSTER National Front are stepping up their local campaigning efforts in the run-up to the May council elections. NF candidates will be standing in several wards, and active abstentionist campaigns will be run elsewhere.

One ward which the NF is to contest covers the Republican enclave of the Short Strand, as well as a section of staunchly Loyalist East Belfast.

Sinn Fein, the "political" wing of the IRA terror gang also contest the seat regularly. Their claim to be "non-sectarian" and merely opposed to British rule is exposed as a lie by the fact that they never bother to send their election literature to electors in the loyalist areas. This is because these bigotted imperialists have no intention of "converting" the majority of native Ulster people into supporters of a mythical United Ireland. Their long term aim is simply to drive them out by murder and discrimination.

Similarly, none of the Protestant unionist parties ever bothers to send their election material to Catholic areas, even though a significant minority of the electorate there regularly vote for them.

Up until now, the only group to avoid such mindless and divisive sectarianism had been the Stalinist "Workers' Party", calling for class struggle to replace the existing conflict.

So it should be interesting to see the impact of NF literature which calls for the Third Way of Independence for Ulster, being sent to people on both sides of the futile divide.

WIRRAL FOR WALES!

NF ACTIVISTS on the Wirral, Cheshire, have begun a series of pickets outside estate agents selling holiday homes in Wales. Using their own version of the effective "Don't Murder Wales" leaflet used elsewhere along the border over the last few months, a group of local members and supporters held a day of action in wealthy Chester at the start of April.

They were joined by a Welsh speaking cadre, which proved invaluable as a number of Welsh speaking members of the public approached the picket to express their thanks and support for the NF action in defence of their language - the oldest living tongue in the whole of Europe.

AUTONOMY!

FIGHT THE RETURN OF THE BUTTY MEN

THE SPECTRE of the "butty man" once again stalks Britain's coal pits. In the days before nationalisation, it was common for miners to be taken on for very short periods - even just for the day.

The men would queue up before work, hoping to be among the lucky ones who caught the eye of the "butty man" - the manager in charge of hiring labour.

Those who were not picked knew that their families would have to go hungry.

The system was open to corruption and abuse was rife. Particularly when work was scarce, the only way to get taken on was to bribe the butty man to pick you.

Not surprisingly, pit workers were delighted when the end of private capitalist ownership in the mines brought an end to such degredation and insecurity.

But now, it is feared that the Tories privatisation scheme will mean the return of the butty man. And there is no doubt that the resulting drive for maximum profits at all costs will lead to even more redundancies and to short cuts on safety in an extremely dangerous environment.

But neither is there any doubt that the nationalised industries tend to be inefficient and bureaucratic, although Tory claims in this regard are much exaggerated. For example, Kellingley, in the heart of militant Yorkshire, is Europe's largest deep mine. It has regularly broken production records since it came on seam about 25 years ago. Last year it turned out 50,000 - 60,000 tonnes every week and made a profit of £11.5 million.

Such hard facts belie the Tory sponsored Daily Mail and Sun image of the industry as an inefficient lame duck. Make no mistake - miners earn their money!

BOSSES

But this does not make nationalisation the best deal for the mines or the miners. Nationalisation, as an ideal, is nothing more than State Capitalism. The State's bureaucrats may make less ruthless masters than the old owners, at least at the moment, but they are bosses nevertheless. They are still lording it over us whilst in reality we are forced to work under their conditions. The men are still having to sweat for somebody else, when they should be working for themselves.

There will continue to be a divisive clash between the interests of Capital and Labour for as long as owners do not work and workers do not own. Exploitation and insecurity will be mirrored by industrial disputes and slacking until this division is ended.

PARTNERS NOT WAGE EARNERS

This could be done very easily, simply by putting ownership of the pits into the hands of the miners and local managers who actually do the work. Britain's mines should cease to be places of wage slavery and become instead places run by partners.

It is time to go beyond the 19th century "alternatives" of Capitalism or State Capitalism - time to move the mines into the 21st century and the world of producers' co-operatives.

The Tories intend to make an issue of de-nationalisation at the next General Election. If the miners' fight against that looming disaster is waged with the aim of maintaining the status quo, then defeat is inevitable. The only way in which miners can win is to call the Tories' bluff on the issue of private property.

"You say that private ownership provides the essential incentive to greater efficiency, higher production and long-term planning and investment. So why not give us - the workers - that incentive. You say you want to see an end to strikes and the power of Marxists in the unions. Alright then, sell the mines to us, not the City sharks. We're hardly likely to go on strike against ourselves are we?

"If you're really so convinced that private ownership of the means of production is a good thing, isn't it time to give the miners a chance to join the club?"

JUDO THROW

Such an appeal turns the force of the Tories' argument against them just like a judo throw. It is the only way that miners can beat their privatisation plans, end the disasterous NUM/UDM division and take control of the future of their jobs and communities. This is the only way that miners can determine the conditions that they will have to work in and a Just Wage for the work that they do.

It must be understood that we are not advocating a partial, cosmetic stake in the industry through workers' shares. In particular, British Coal's plans to sell miners shares in private power stations built near the pits are a cynical con.

The plan is to link up with area electricity boards and development companies, and to invest £1.3 billion to build ten small power stations near pits mainly in Nottinghamshire and Yorkshire. British Coal would have a 40% share stake, part of which would be available to the workforce.

Some deal! Owning a small percentage of a minority share stake would give miners no say in the operation whatsoever. All they would get by having money tied up in the power stations would be a pressing financial reason to put up with low pay and dangerous conditions at work, in order to allow the power stations to make bigger profits from cheaper coal.

Advocates of genuine co-ops and workers' ownership must be at the forefront of the fight against this cheap and dangerous gimmick.

DISILLUSIONMENT

Morale at many pits is now very low. Kellingley, for example, has seen some 300 of its 1,750 men apply for voluntary redundancy since the end of last year. The same disillusionment is to be found elsewhere. In the words of a Nottinghamshire miner who spoke to NFN recently:

"Many of the lads feel it's best to get out now. We all know what's going to happen to jobs and safety once the new bosses start trying to cut costs to boost their profits. The butty days are coming back.

"Anyone who can see a way to use their redundancy money to set up in something where they can work for themselves is off like a shot. Why work hard for someone else when you get no thanks and when they can up and lay you off whenever they want?"

Absolutely right. But why should miners have to go and become window cleaners, car mechanics or jobbing builders in order to work for themselves? Why shouldn't the miners own the mines?

The Tories justify their privatisation plans by going on about the benefits of ownership. Fair enough. But since ownership is apparently good for the few, it must be even better for the many.

This logic and truth is the only way to fight the return of the butty men. Neither private bosses nor state bureaucrats. The mines must be owned by the miners!
